Dear Customers:

Eagle is expanding operations to go beyond design, engineer, build, and installation. I am pleased to announce that Eagle now has a customer service Department dedicated to helping you keep your equipment running at peak efficiency.

My name is George Schueneman, Customer Service Manager, and I'll be your primary contact for machine maintenance and service. I'll be leading a group of dedicated service professionals that specialize in problem solving and automation solutions.

Here are some of the benefits that you will receive by putting our team to work for you:

- ✱ Dedicated service group from a company you can trust, committed to helping you expedite service and repair solutions.
- ✱ Preventative maintenance programs designed to circumvent costly repairs.
- ✱ Identify areas for process improvements resulting in reduced cost and improved efficiency.
- ✱ Maximize machine uptime to increase your company profits.
- ✱ Reduce the burden on your plant maintenance personnel.

We look forward to helping you meet your machine maintenance repair needs. Together, we can keep your machinery running at peak efficiency.

Thank you for partnering with Eagle Technologies
